THE BOARD OF TRADE

Some Suggestions for Its Members to Consider at Their Meeting Tonight

There will be an important meeting of the members of the Ocala board of trade tonight, August 1, in the city hall. Very important matters will come up for consideration.

This commercial organization should be fully alive to its ability to help the individual members thereof, as well as the collective interests of our municipality. The history of this organization in the past has demonstrated its usefulness to self and the public. The 4th of July celebration is a point in question. Then why not take an abiding interest in its continuance, not by spasmodic jerks or occasional spurts, but by a thorough-going, systematized action, regular meetings to be held say twice a month, in which programs will be made out and the members of the board be assigned to the discussion of the various subjects along the line of promoting their trade and the improvement and commercial growth of the city. It is practicable. It is feasible.

No man's business progresses by itself. It needs constant thought and attention. This fact is so plain it needs no discussion. The interests of the town should surely be fully secondary to your individual progress and prosperity.

The Star delights to think of the business men of Ocala succeeding in their trade efforts and commercial relations. Then success and growth is closely allied with the city's prosperity and good name, and surely an hour or two a month is not too much to ask of you to give to the interests and prospects of your city. Your fortunes are indissolubly linked; therefore, being mutual, both must have your best, undivided attention, that both may thrive.

One question in particular should receive the earnest and unbiased consideration of the members of the board of trade.

It is the forthcoming question of the special election to be held August 22, whether this city shall take up its outstanding and floating indebtedness and issue in lieu thereof bonds to the amount of $24,000, or as much thereof as shall be needed to put the city on a spot cash basis. The urgency and importance of doing this must be plain to every property holder and business man. Credit is the basis of trade and commercial honor. These, ignored, bring disgrace and trouble. Both are in sight if we disregard the first principles of commercial rectitude.

We have contracted these obligations with promises to pay by the issuance of scrip. The city, in a large part, has received permanent benefits through this credit, and it is our bounden duty as honest men to make these obligations good. Then why not walk up to the rack of duty and honor and fulfill them.

But these remarks are only suggestive. Let them be taken up tonight and discussed and a live action taken that will insure the success of the election for bonds.

To Cleanse the System

Effectually yet gently, when costive or bilious, to permanently overcome habitual constipation, to awaken the kidneys and liver to a healthy activity without irritating or weakening them, to dispel headaches, colds or fevers, use Syrup of Figs, made by the California Fig Syrup Co.

Buford's Picnic

This refers to Buford Leitner, of the light heart but heavy hand, willing friend and most accommodating of men. The readers of the Star have been told of Buford's 4th of July visit to his old home at Lever, S. C., which he had not seen since a baby a year old, forty-five years ago. The day after his arrival at the home of his sister, Mrs. Lever, there was an old fashioned, Palmetto State picnic at which 300 persons were present, 299 of whom were relatives of Buford Leitner. Talk about relatives, Buford has them by the whole sale. He says the people are getting along well, and it is a glorious county, possessed by a generous, noble hearted people, but as for Buford, give him Marion county or death. It beats the world for a poor man.
